

What Japan is doing

Look closely and guess what they could be....

Are they pens with cameras? NO

Any wild guesses? No clue yet? NOT YET

Ladies and gentlemen...
congratulations! You've just looked into the future....yep that's right!

You've just seen something that will replace your PC in the near future.

Here is how it works:

In the revolution of miniature computers, scientists have made great developments with bluetooth technology...

These are the forthcoming computers you can carry in your pockets .

This 'pen type of instrument' produces both the monitor as well as the keyboard on any flat surface from where you can carry out functions you would normally do on your desktop computer.

Can anyone say .'Good-bye laptops!'
